

SPACE & MISSILE

AFSC: 13SxA

The space operations specialty (13SX) encompasses operating and managing systems involved in space surveillance, spacelift, ballistic space warning, and satellite command and control. Operates and manages space operations systems. The systems include surveillance, spacelift, space warning, and satellite command and control (C2). Performs associated battle management, command, control, and communications activities to defend and support the United States and allied forces.

MAJOR TASKS

Builds future plans, requirements, concepts, directives, and exercises for operational employment of systems and facilities.

Establishes organizational structure, and determines personnel required to support mission areas.

Establishes training requirements and performance standards for all systems.

Plans, organizes, and directs space operations programs.

REQUIREMENTS

- Bachelor's Degree
- Commission as an officer in the Air Force Reserves
- Possession of a valid state driver's license
- Eligibility for a Top Secret security clearance

ILLINOIS AIR NATIONAL GUARD
3101 J David Jones Pkwy
Springfield, IL 62707

Recruiting:
217.757.1184

